

KEI Introduction

KEI has earned a formidable reputation by nurturing relationships, ensuring timely execution of orders and becoming a reliable partner in executing client projects. Our uncompromised cost-effective quality and reliable product range that meets rigorous technical requirements of our customers has made us an undisputed industry leader. KEI has invested in building an intelligent infrastructure which ensures that our clients receive products that conform to their stringent requirements.

KEI is perhaps one of the few companies in India to offer customers a unique range of EHV cables and specialty cables such as fire survival cables, zero halogen cables and braided cables.

An ISO 9001:2000 and ISO 17025 certified company, KEI carries out stringent quality control measures under surveillance of a competent team of technocrats and quality enablers. Continuous product innovations and cutting-edge R&D at KEI's in-house labs together contribute towards the constant evolution in our offerings and services. All KEI cables and wires are of a superior quality, a reason why they have been accredited and certified by Testing Agencies across the globe.
